

Angelica Bridges

L A T E S T N E W S

Angelica will be heading to a farm in Upstate New York at the end of August to shoot the television pilot Hotties in Hicktown a unique reality series about actresses coming right off the turnip truck (literally) and making their dreams come true as a Hollywood actress. Angelica will be guiding and coaching the hopefuls throughout the series as well as singing the theme song "Hotties in Hicktown" for the show opening in this updated version of "Green Acres".

Angelica also just finished a supporting lead role in the UK psychological thriller The Perfect Woman in the role of "Sammi". The film was shot on the historical grounds of the Thornbury Castle outside of London, England and will be released in November 2007.

Another exciting role she is adding to her resume is Producer. She is the brainchild behind her all-girls modern euro pop/dance style group called Strawberry Blonde. Angelica auditioned hundreds of hopefuls vying for a spot in the group. She handpicked the girls, writes the music, designates the style and wardrobe and is the lead singer. Strawberry Blonde has been busy working with top choreographers such as Cris Judd, Eddie Garcia and Keith Young. They just finished shooting their debut music video titled Do It To The Music a song also written by Bridges and slated for a September 2007 release. The sexy and talented group of sirens enjoy performing live and have performed at the grand opening and other events held at the famous Cabana Club in Hollywood and just made their Vegas debut performing at the famous Treasure Island hotel and casino!
